

Farm Tour for Legislators

Giving legislators and policy makers a chance to see the diversity of New Jersey agriculture and talk one-on-one with farmers about farming in a densely populated state.

Ag Leadership Development

Training young agriculturalists to be informed, articulate leaders who can promote the interests of agriculture and ensure a viable future for the industry.

Farmers Against Hunger

Feeding 5,000 people weekly with fresh produce donated by local farmers, wholesalers and grocers.

Ag in the Classroom

Educating our teachers and students about the vital importance of New Jersey agriculture through workshops, farm tours and grants.

Produce Recovery Network

Led by Farmers Against Hunger, this group made up of the state's six food banks and two community action agencies ensures that needy families statewide have fresh fruits and vegetables.

Project Food, Land and People

This national initiative provides educational resources and promotes approaches to learning that help students understand how agriculture and the environment help the people of the world.

COUNT ME IN! Here is my tax deductible contribution to support the New Jersey Agricultural Society's work to preserve and enhance Garden State agriculture for generations to come.
